HOPE WANES FOR SAFETY OF ITALIA IN ARCTIC SEARCH

If Wisconsin Fish Do as Voters Do, Cal Can Eat Meat

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 2.—Shows how quick even a president's plans can drop from public interest.
Last summer Mr. Coolidge's vacation place was the one big news story of the year.
Now everybody's interest is, "Where will Al spend next summer?"
One thing, they can't accuse Coolidge of trying to cater to the voter by going to a doubtful state. Wisconsin is never doubtful. You can always depend on it doing just what the other 47 don't.
If the fish are as queer as the voters, he will eat steak all summer.
Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

No Tidings Yet Of Italia Crew In Ice Fields

NORWEGIAN PILOT
TO SEARCH BY AIR

Steamship Tromsø Expected
To Reach King's Bay Next Week To Join In Search

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 2.—Hope for the immediate rescue of General Umberto Nobile and his seventeen companions, missing for eight days, dwindled still further today with the grim Arctic still holding the secret of the disappearance of the dirigible Italia.

Hampered by snow, fog, ice-floes and cold, rescue expeditions have made but small progress. Most of the rescue expeditions are still in the preliminary stage. Two have been forced back by ice floes.

Four Italian chasseurs who set out from the Citta Di Milano at King's Bay, after the supply ship was forced to return to its base, are now trekking northward to scour the region in North Spitzbergen whence the Italia is last believed to have radioed.

The Soviet ice-ship Abo which started out from Archangel with a plane aboard, has been damaged by the ice-floes and forced to give up its search. Lincoln Ellsworth, wealthy American Arctic explorer who was Nobile's comrade when the north pole was first crossed by a dirigible in 1926, is reported to have offered to finance a new expedition to search for the Italia.

The ice-ship Hobby, which left Tromsø, Norway, several days ago with Lieut. Holm, an experienced Norwegian pilot, and a seaplane aboard is expected to arrive at King's Bay today. The Hobby will push out as far north as the ice will permit and then Holm will reconnoiter from the air, using the ship as a base.

Another ship, carrying Captain Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen and a seaplane, left Tromsø Thursday and will not reach King's Bay before the middle of next week. The Swedish government intends sending three seaplanes to Spitzbergen and the Italian government will send another but these probably will not be available for at least a week.

North Street Bridge To Be Erected By County At Once

County Commissioners Authorize T. A. Gilkey To Draw
Plans For Structure

County commissioners have passed a formal resolution to build the North street bridge from Croton avenue to North street over the Neshaunock creek. Provision is made for acquiring the land necessary. County Engineer T. A. Gilkey has been directed to prepare plans for the bridge which will be a steel structure. A petition for the construction of the bridge is to be presented to court. It is expected that work on the new structure will begin as soon as plans can be prepared, approved and the contract let.

It is believed that the North street bridge will be a material help in solving the traffic problems of the city particularly as they affect the Washington street district. It will be an easy matter for traffic coming in the direction of Croton to make the turn on to the North street bridge as it will be a right hand turn.

At present there is always more or less congestion at the intersection of Croton avenue and East Washington street. It is believed that a majority of those coming down Croton avenue will prefer to turn on to the North street bridge where there will be an easy turn and a clear view.

Crippled Children Clinic On Tuesday

Clinic for crippled children will be held at the Shenango Valley hospital Tuesday June 5. Dr. J. O. Wallace, specialist from Pittsburgh being in charge. All old cases and new cases up for examination are requested to go to the hospital during the afternoon.

Daylight Savings Time Starts Here On Sunday

New Castle clocks will be turned forward one hour tonight, when residents of the city retire.
On Sunday morning, this city will start observance of daylight savings time for the three summer months, the daylight savings period ending with the first Sunday of September.

New Castle is observing the new time schedule for the three summer months only this season, instead of the usual five months' period.

It is believed that the shorter period will prove popular here, and that elimination of daylight savings in May and September will eliminate much of the objection that has heretofore been associated with the summer program.
Turn your clocks on tonight.

Settlement Of Factional Dif-

KANSAS CITY, June 2.—The elder fathers of the Republican party began assembling in Kansas City today, 10 days in advance of the convention, for the quadrennial task of deciding who's who among the quarrelsome Republican office holders of the always Democratic South.

Settlement of factional differences in southern states before the convention has become a fixed event as the convention itself. This year the contests have been brought from seven states and one territory, and involve some 69 seats in the convention. The full national committee meets Monday morning to act as judge and jury in the proceedings.

This year, for the first time since the historic contests of 1912 between the Taft and Roosevelt delegates, the quadrennial fights may conceivably have an important bearing on the nomination. Hoover delegates are involved in nearly every one of the 69 contests. Should these delegates lose out to any appreciable degree, the effect may be all-important, for the Hoover managers have had to take a lot of things for granted in making their claims of a nomination within three ballots.

Important Contests
The contests are:
Texas—Twenty-six delegates, with R. B. Creager, Hoover national committee man, opposing the Rep. Harry Wurzbach faction, which is not included, but is known to be against Hoover.
Mississippi—Twelve delegates—the

Schools All On Standard Time

Time Of Schools Will Not Change To Daylight Savings Time

All sessions of the public schools, senior high, junior high and elementary school will be conducted on Eastern Standard time on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday which ends the school year.

It was agreed not to change to daylight savings time as there would be only the three days of the school year left.

Commencement exercises including the baccalaureate services on Sunday evening June 3, the class day exercises on Tuesday evening, June 5, and the graduating exercises on Wednesday evening, June 6, will be held on daylight savings time, each service being at 8:00 o'clock.
Senior play on Monday evening will also be on daylight savings time.

GOVERNOR SMITH IS BIG WINNER

(International News Service)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 2.—West Virginia will send a divided delegate body to the Republican and Democratic conventions. This much was assured today as returns continued to drift in from Tuesday's primary.

While losing the preference vote to Sen. Guy D. Goff, Secretary of Commerce Hoover apparently has won at least six of the 19 delegates to Kansas City. Hoover claims four of the seven delegates at large and Goff five, with two delegates appearing on both lists.

Ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, who did not enter the race, appears to have picked up a few votes. Ex-Gov. Albert B. White and Walter Hallanan, both Lowden supporters, apparently have won in the delegate race.

Managers of Gov. Albert Smith of New York who defeated Senator James A. Reed for the Democratic preference, claimed 10 of the 16 delegates to Houston. A similar number was claimed by the Reed group which was backed by the Anti-Saloon league and W. C. T. U.

Ex-Senator Clyde B. Johnson and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, president of the state W. C. T. U., who are leading in the delegate at large contest, have announced they would support a dry, indicating they might vote for Rep. Cordell Hull of Tennessee.

VARIED PROGRAM
INTERESTS CROWD

Following out the idea of saving the best for the last, the Consistory Dinner club put on its last dinner dance of the season Friday evening in the Scottish Rite Cathedral and the first event of the kind next fall will have a high mark to shoot at when the one of Friday evening is remembered.

In size the affair numbered about 900, about half of which came from outside the city. The main dining room was filled with the crowd and as usual the service was well high perfect.

The program was in charge of M. D. Wells and a committee of Dinner club members and the quality of the program following the dinner showed a thorough preparation.

Mind Believed Unbalanced
Causes Mother To Drown
Son In Bath-Tub

(International News Service)
FLOWERSVILLE, Mich., June 2.—Mrs. Ruby Snell, 46, was being held today for the death of her son Paul, six years old, who was drowned in a bath tub late yesterday.

The mother is said to have admitted drowning the boy because she "loved him and did not want him to grow to manhood without the advantages of other boys."

Mrs. Snell is said to have been worrying lately over the boy's future, fearing a lack of money would retard his progress.
Neighbors with whom she had talked recently told police they believed her mind was unbalanced. Paul was the only child in the family.

Immense Letters Painted On Roof Of Tin Mill For Aviators' Benefit

Aviators passing over the southern end of New Castle can not possibly mistake the city over which they are flying, for the Shenango plant of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company has just completed what is thought to be one of the biggest signs in the country.

In letters 15 feet high and the name "New Castle" stretching out over the roof for 200 feet, and an arrow 75 feet long pointing to the airport on the Harlansburg road, the new Shenango tin mill sign will stand out as a beacon of information to flyers, even though they are in the air a mile or more.

Not only will the sign be a guide in the daytime, but at night it will be illuminated by giant flood lights, according to David S. Pyle, general manager of the plant.

"The biggest sign for the biggest tin mill" seems to have been the idea back of this sign, and the result is a sign that can hardly be missed.

Believe Jealousy Cause Of
Girl's Death; Slain Girl
Cabaret Singer

(International News Service)
BOSTON, June 2.—The bullet ridden body of a girl discovered in an isolated section of the Blue Hills Reservation was identified today as that of Miss Mary C. Mahan, 21, of South Boston.

Two brothers and the father of Miss Mahan made the identification from a newspaper description of the murder victim and her clothing. They went to Quincy to view the body and make sure of the identification.

Miss Mahan was last seen yesterday riding in the taxicab of her sweetheart. He was a well-known pugilist, the police revealed. She was a cabaret singer.

Edwin Mahan, 23, brother of Mary, said that he was seated in his cab at his stand in South Boston when he saw his sister and her sweetheart drive by. Mary, he said, waved to him and seemed in a happy mood.

Members of the Mahan family told police that a week ago Mary purchased a revolver and officials thought it possible that it was with this weapon that she was killed.

Jealousy was the theory advanced by Miss Mahan's brother as the motive of the slaying. He said she lived in fear of her life.

Search for the sweetheart of Miss Mahan was shifted from Boston to Detroit when police were told that the young man had announced recently his intention of going to that city to visit relatives.

The name or address of the Detroit relatives were not known.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—The handwork of man, found a new triumph in the flight of the Australian-bound monoplane Southern Cross from America to Hawaii. It was a double triumph, a victory for navigation and a victory for communication, that was being heralded today.

While the Southern Cross with its intrepid crew of four, sped tenaciously over the swirling ocean wastes, it was never out of touch with the world through the medium of the radio, sending a constant stream of signals out through the mysterious ether, the fortunes of the ship and its crew were an open page to listeners on American and Hawaiian shores.

HAWAIIANS ACCLAIM
FOUR ADVENTURERS

Hop To Suva Longest Water
Flight Ever Attempted In Airplane Thus Far

(International News Service)
HONOLULU, June 2.—Behind, 2400 miles of conquered ocean!

Ahead, 3,130 more miles, stretching to Suva in the Fiji Islands—3,130 miles of sea not yet braved by man in his mechanical flying device—3,130 miles which offer the longest non-stop flight over water ever attempted.

Such was the prospect glimpsed today by the four exultant airmen—crew of the good ship "Southern Cross,"—who yesterday successfully negotiated the first great "water hazard" of their 7800-mile flight from California to Australia.

Lands at Noon
It was at 12:19 p. m. Pacific Coast time that the ponderous wheels of the tri-motored Fokker monoplane touched Hawaiian soil. 27 hours and 27 minutes after the plane had slipped into the air at Oakland Municipal airport.

Honolulu acclaimed the event wildly. Honolulu had been working intensely, for three hours. The city had lost contact with craft and men, and for three agonizing hours felt its hope ebbing.

And then, riding along the wind which blew off the beaten sea came the thing which had conquered it. Straight for the field boomed the monoplane, and exultation replaced doubt on Wheeler field.

Victors in their grueling struggle against the perils of sea and air, the four courageous men today stood on the threshold of an adventure, even more ambitious and daring than their dash from the American mainland to Hawaii.

Enjoy Deep Sleep
After a night of deep sleep, such as only those who give their utmost in energy and effort may know, the hardy fliers prepared to leave their hotel and motor to Wheeler army air field, where the giant craft, which faithfully bore them over their long course, awaited their scrutiny.

The first leg of their projected air expedition from America to Australia stamped with success, the valiant birdmen lost no time in turning their attention to plans for the consummation of the next step in their epic program, a flight from Hawaii to the distant island of Suva in the Fiji

I wouldn't belittle the weather we're getting. I reckon we'll have to take just what we get, there's nothing to do in the way of improvement, we'll have to take just what is coming, and yet, perhaps a suggestion concerning the weather, would not be construed as a critical slap. I merely suggest a few changes you gather, for I'd like to assist him, this rain making chap. Why not send for rain in the dawn of the morning, and not on a day when vacation is on, why not send the rain ere the auto is polished, and get the rain set ere the money is gone. Why not send the rain when a fellow is sleeping, and still help the spuds and the rye and the hay. I'm merely suggesting this might be made possible, looks like more rain, sixty-seven today.

CONGRESS AND BUSINESS

ADJOURNMENT of congress brought the usual sigh of relief from quarters where legislative action is regarded as the natural foe of business progress. The nominations loom, but they seem to exert a less depressing influence on business than a congress in session.

The breathing spell that may eventuate after the candidates are chosen is expected to furnish some adjustments that may tone down the spottiness in industry, although, of course, the seasonal movement may prevent an immediate gain.

Crop prospects are now determining pretty well the outlook as regards national and sectional prosperity. On the whole, the farmer can look forward to a year of fair crops and favorable prices.

In other fields there are hopeful signs. Construction continues to keep ahead of last year. The motor industry is slightly ahead of 1927 production. Car loadings are below those of twelve months ago, but a steady improvement is noted.

For this lack of confidence in congress on the part of business there are two explanations. Big business says it cannot be optimistic under the threat of hampering government interference, and that that threat is always present while congress is in session. Congress retaliates with the expressed suspicion that big business is never at ease while congress is in session for the same reason that a malefactor is ill at ease in the presence of a policeman.

DECLINE OF COLLEGE BASEBALL

ON THE heels of the report that sand-lot baseball is declining in favor with the younger generation, comes convincing evidence that the game seems definitely on the decline on the college campus. Despite efforts of college athletic departments to keep it alive, college baseball is no longer a major sport.

Some portion of the decline in interest is due to football. The gridiron sport has become the major athletic interest of American colleges and in the larger schools it is practically a year-round activity. Since playing on the varsity football team carries more honor and other benefits than playing on the baseball nine, it is all but inevitable that potential baseball players are spending their spring afternoons on the gridiron instead of on the diamond.

It is unfortunate that baseball has so little appeal. Of all college sports it is the least likely to result in serious injury to the player, and it affords good training in athletic competition and sound physical education.

Alumni interest explains the remarkable popularity of college football and that is something campus baseball has thus far failed to attract. Football is fortunate in not having to compete with such a highly organized professional game as league baseball.

Even though intercollegiate baseball is not financially self-supporting and helps eat up the inevitable football surplus, the game should be kept alive if only as a medium for inter-class competition. It is healthful exercise and a good game.

WHEN one is born into this world naked, with no place provided in advance for shelter and no provision made for food, such person, if he have a grain of intellect, becomes a reformer. He questions the right of the more fortunate to be born to downy cradles or frescoed ceilings. He is earnestly bent on an equal distribution of the good things of the more fortunate or the better born.

On the other hand, he who is born rich or attains to riches soon learns that all the gorgeous creatures in their fine houses and automobiles, silks and laces, diamonds and furs, are chasing in the same race with himself—after the unattainable. The real aristocracy, like the foot of the rainbow, vanishes as he approaches.

There are two phases of life unfavorable to peace and comfort; the one is adversity, the other prosperity.

It is hard to tell in which a man is more discontented with himself and more offensive to others.

When prosperous he patronizes; when evil trouble falls upon him he whines and is a horrible bore. When he is down his friends wish him up on their own account; when he is high up they sigh for mountains to fall on him and bury him out of sight.

An English Earl who has been unsuccessfully married to a former Folies girl, says that he does not believe that marriages between the English and Americans is the best, for the reason that in England it is traditional that the man is the head of the house and the family, and in America the woman has the position of decision. The Very Latest.
His Master's Crib.
The Glass and Dough.
The Gibson Candidate.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Learn what Editor Coblenz reports as "latest political dope from Washington." You need not believe it, but this is how it goes:

"Coolidge for President. Hoover for Vice President. Coolidge to resign at the end of two years, after serving as President for exactly eight years, or two full terms."

President Coolidge spending his summer vacation in Wisconsin reminds you of Ruth, only, unlike Ruth, President Coolidge, "amid the alien corn and middle western farmers," will defy criticism of his McNary-Haugen veto. Every farmer will admit that the President has the strength of his convictions, and farmers like that.

"The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib" and some of our educators, newspaper owners, editors and book publishers also know their master's crib and eat at it.

One professor in Pennsylvania told the Federal Trade Commission in Washington yesterday that he had been paid $250 a piece for three lectures on public utilities.

The Professor was not doing "undercover work" for Pennsylvania utility corporations. The corporations, it seems, simply wanted to eliminate incorrect opinions about their business.

The bootleg and bandit business grow and improve hand in hand.

"Don't make a squawk or we'll kill you." That was the first command of bandits holding up the Broadmoor Country Club, near Indianapolis.

"Throw the glass and the dough in the sack," was the second command, when the bandits lined up against the wall 200 ladies and gentlemen enjoying a dance. "The glass," meant diamonds and other jewelry. The collectors of "glass and dough" made their get-away.

Will Rogers is nominated for President by Charles Dana Gibson and his able son, Langhorne Gibson, in their publication, "Life."

Rogers, who says he "cheats to run," calls his a "bunkless campaign," and "the nomination leaves me dazed, and if I can stay dazed, I ought to make a splendid candidate."

Will Rogers is young and doesn't realize how much truth there is in that.

An election to the Presidency dazes a man so thoroughly that it takes him about four years to get over it. And by that time they are thinking about another candidate.

Favorable sons of various states will meet at the Republican convention early, because their states have been "invaded" by Herbert Hoover.

Those favorite sons won't be as angry as the professional politicians. There is profit in trading one favorite son against another, or trading all of them for a consideration when the time comes. When favorite sons fade away politicians' profits fade also.

A child seven years old is kidnapped in Ohio and killed under horrible circumstances.

The murder of that little girl is another achievement of our bootlegging age. Charles J. Hoppe, with a wife and 1-year-old child, who police say, confessed the killing, said his wife was "full of bootleg whisky and my recollection of the killing is vague."

Something ought to be done about bootleg whisky in addition to making it a source of revenue to bootleggers, enforcement agents and politicians.

H. Z. Mitchell's "Sentinel" at Bemidji, Minn., wins the prize as best weekly in the national editorial contest. This is a good thing to remind the public in general and national advertisers in particular, that country weekly newspapers are the most important organs of public opinion and protectors of public welfare.

And their advertising value per mill line, is not excelled by any publication of any kind.

The reader of a country weekly buys everything from things to cement, to cement in the cellar floor, and every advertiser has in him a possible customer.

A LAW WITH TEETH.

The Michigan law—similar to the New York Baumes law—which sends a man or woman to prison for life after the fourth conviction is a law with teeth. It gets more results against criminal activity than any other law that has been enacted by any other state for many years. Fearing life imprisonment, the unwholesome characters of New York and Michigan if they have been arrested several times flee to other states. When other states adopt similar action a real offensive campaign against crime in the United States will have begun.

OFFENSIVE NOT DEFENSIVE.

News dispatches say Chicago has at last begun to administer strong punches against law breakers. Several hundred additional policemen have been put on the streets to enforce the 1 o'clock closing law. A special grand jury is busy on other forms of violation.

Too long has Chicago been content to let things slide.

LIFE AND THE HUMAN BODY

We know that life on this planet is the functioning of an organism that assimilates food and breathes air in some way or another. This includes men, birds, fishes, reptiles, and plants.

Dr. Henry Norris Russell, director of Princeton University Observatory, said the other day that the only place on any other planet or heavenly body where life could exist, as we find it here, was probably the planet Mars, as that is the only planet we know that has the right range of temperature and also water, air and light.

All but 1,000 of the billions of known heavenly bodies are too hot for any life and out of the thousand there are only seven which come within the widest scope of requirements for life.

But there is a temperature of at least 100 degrees below zero on Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune. Life as we understand it, may exist on Venus, although the range of temperature is unfavorable.

The trouble is that we do not know what life is. As far as we know, it is always connected with some air-breathing, nutrient-consuming organism.

But if, as some claim, life is a form of electricity, it might well function in some non-organic or mineral substance that could be electrified and neither breathe air nor consume food.

In other words, Dante's vision of souls inhabiting flames is not entirely impossible, and the souls of men here inhabiting human bodies might well go to inhabit mineral organizations somewhere else.

Science distinctly points to somewhere in the unknown where all elements can be resolved into one, and the different elements arise merely from different combinations of the electrons.

In the great heat of other stellar bodies electrons may function, the same electrons that operate here in our temperature, and somehow life may be a functioning of these electrons.

It is a pleasing fancy that God is using this earth as a breeding ground for souls and that from here they go to out populate the stars. In that case sex life would only exist here, being the medium of growing souls, while in Heaven and on the heavenly bodies they would neither marry nor be given in marriage, according to the Scripture.

A Columbia University student hanged himself to a tree near Peekskill, New York, because he couldn't have a trip to Europe. He said his father had promised him the trip and then had gone back on his promise.

The young man was 19, in good health and mentally above the average. He was a member of the Glee club and was interested in other college activities, although he was working his way through college.

Before hanging himself the remarkable young man wrote to one of his friends saying that he couldn't see how the quarrel with his father over the European trip could be patched up and that he wanted to get away from drudgery.

I suspect that this was a spoiled boy.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NOW LESS OF QUEZON

The Philippine leader, Signor Manuel Quezon, has a following in this country made up of those professedly liberty loving politicians who insist that the Filipinos are able to run a government of their own. It is extremely satisfactory to the thinking and really intelligent people of the country that the House of Representatives of the United States, together with President Coolidge and the Supreme Court of the Nation are convinced that the Philippine Islands belong to the United States and that the best that the Filipinos may expect is eventually to attain the dignity of Statehood.

A decision of the Supreme Court at Washington holds it to be the prerogative of the Governor-General to appoint directors and managers for the Philippine National Bank and the National Coal Company. In effect this decision upholds the stand of General Wood to restore the position of Governor-General to that of an executive instead of a mere figurehead. It should end much of the agitation for immediate independence inspired by native politicians not qualified to govern for the welfare of the people.

When, in July, 1901, Mr. Taft was made civil governor, there was a Philippine Commission appointed by the President of the United States three of the eight members being Filipinos. This commission was the sole legislative body and also acted as a cabinet with the civil governor. Under this administration there was constant and rapid improvement so that in 1907 the people were given the right to elect an assembly of 80 members which functioned as the lower branch of a legislature, with the commission acting as the senate. Economic and political improvement continued.

The University of the Philippines was founded, education was furthered, communications and public works were pushed forward, and local government was for the most part under control of the natives.

But with the administration of Mr. Harrison late in 1913 a policy was inaugurated, pleasing to the Filipino politicians but destructive to the economic welfare of the people. Apparently, it was founded upon the idea that merely to desire independence was proof of the necessary qualifications for self-government. Majority control of the commission or senate was taken from the Americans and given to the Filipinos. Americans held 28 per cent of the positions in the public service, but they were in the important positions where they were needed. This policy was changed and the higher positions of trust and responsibility were filled by Filipinos, who had neither the training nor the experience for such work. So complete was this change that only four per cent of the officials were Americans. The Governor-General permitted the reins of the government to be taken by the legislature and his position degenerated from executive to a ceremonial figurehead.

The result is obvious. Spending of public funds grew apace and in consequence taxation increased. Graft and waste were brought to the public service, but they were in the important positions where they were needed. Missionary Society

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. church, met Friday afternoon in the church parlors for the regular monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. F. S. Neigh, presided. Mrs. James Drake led the devotional period. Mrs. Neigh offered the invocation and read an appropriate poem entitled "Seeking Thee." Response to roll call was given by a verse of scripture on light.

Mrs. Martha Ketter gave a report of the sick of the society. A very interesting report of the Methodist General Conference held at Kansas City, Mo., in May was given by Mrs. W. A. Womer and Mrs. E. N. Baer. The missionary program was carried out in charge of Miss Ada Newell and Mrs. Butz. Mrs. Neigh sang very effectively the hymn, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning."

There will be no meeting in July of the society.

Foreign Society

Regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Epworth M. E. church was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. McConnell of North street, with the president, Mrs. F. P. Andrews presiding.

The devotional hour was led by Mrs. J. P. Allen. Mrs. J. C. Wimer paid a tribute to one of the girls, Miss Margaret Smith, a missionary in India who passed away during the month of May. Mrs. S. A. Leiby presented an interesting program on "Stewardship" with Mrs. Edward Roberts, Mrs. Harper Dick, Mrs. Rice and Mrs. P. H. Kearns taking part.

Mrs. W. J. Marshall was in charge of the mystery box. Plans were made for a picnic at the Park in July. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. McConnell, Mrs. Pearl Foster, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Bentley and Mrs. S. L. Maxwell.

Tilden and Lott In Tennis Match

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 2.—Bill Tilden and George Lott, Jr., are scheduled to meet Tezio Toba and Tamio Abe in the doubles match of the American zone Davis cup tennis finals here today.

A victory would give the home boys the series, as Tilden and Hennessey annexed both singles matches yesterday. Abe was barely good enough to give Tilden a workout while Yoshio Ohta made Hennessey step lively to win.

The American team, if victorious, plans to sail for Europe on June 9 to meet the zone winners there in the inter-zone finals for the privilege of challenging France, possessor of the historic cup.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 15

An important meeting of troop 15 was held Thursday, May 31, at the First Christian church with Scoutmaster Sidney Smith and Assistant Scoutmaster Sidney Smith and Assistant Scoutmaster George McCracken in charge. The earlier part of the meeting was taken up in games after which the usual opening ceremonies were held.

Two projects are to be taken up by Troop 15: the establishment of a small service troop for use at the airport to keep back crowds and to assist generally in the work, and a model airplane contest to end July 4th. A prize will be awarded for the best flying model and for the best appearance.

After a general discussion on Scouting the meeting was closed in the usual manner. The Camporee team is composed of the following boys: I. C. Brown, Jack Jones, Harold Jones, Ralph Montgomery, Haskell Kitchen, James McKee, Robert Ray and Fulton Cook. A meeting was held and it was decided that they go for an overnight hike this week.

Last Sunday morning the following boys helped the Sons of Veterans to decorate numerous graves of American war veterans: Junior Brown, Jack Jones, Harold Jones, Roy Patton, Paul Cutler, Stewart Lovelace, Herbert Rodgers, Bob Mitchell and Haskell Kitchen. The following boys helped at Greenwood cemetery on Memorial Day: Harold Jones, James McKee, Robert Ray, Roy Patton, Carlton Barish, Fulton Cook, John Phillips, Herbert Rodgers, Haskell Kitchen and Paul Cutler. These scouts were under the charge of Assistant Scoutmaster George McCracken.

The members of the troop are glad to welcome back into the troop Scout Bert Coates who was badly hurt and has just recovered sufficiently to participate in the activities of the troop again.

Scribe—Harold Jones.

TROOP 5

Elks Boy Scout troop 5 held its weekly meeting in the basement of the Elks home with Scoutmaster Ralph Davis in charge. Assisted by Walter Keri and Tony Colalucci. The meeting was taken up by Mr. Davis instructing the Jamboree patrol on camping. Each boy now has his part of the equipment. The patrol has planned an overnight hike for next Wednesday night at five o'clock and all members of the patrol are asked to meet at the Paper Mill bridge fully equipped.

The next meeting of the troop will be held at the Elks home Thursday evening, June 7th. Mr. Davis has planned to organize new patrols at that time, therefore, a full attendance is requested.

The meeting this week closed with the usual ceremonies.

Scribe—Alfred Howard.

Man Mistaken For Burglar Is Killed

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A GOLFER SENDS FOR THE DOCTOR

The doctor came to my troubled bed And he felt my pulse and he felt my head. And he heard me moan and he heard me sigh. And I thought every minute he'd see me die.

He heard me sneeze and he heard me cough. But all that he said was: "How's your golf?" My cheeks were flushed and my eyes were red. My pillow felt like a chunk of lead. My lips were dry and my hands were hot.

And I tossed in pain on my little cot. But the doctor looked at my tortured frame And all that he asked, was: "How's your game?"

The doctor smiled as he heard me moan. The doctor grinned at my saddest tone. He nodded his head as I winced in pain. And he said: "You'll soon be well again. Just take these pills and stay in bed. Now let's talk golf for awhile instead."

Said I to him with my fiercest look: "I didn't want you to cure my hook. I'm a very sick man, and it isn't nice. I didn't want you to cure my slice. It's not for my game that I pay your fee."

I'll cure my golf, if you'll cure me." (Copyright, 1923, Edgar A. Guest)

COAL.

Coal is a necessity for millions of people. It is cheap fuel for families all over the union. Coal mine troubles are of too much importance to be limited to state action. The federal government should take a hand at bringing about right relations between coal mine owners and miners. The proposal for a federal coal commission is a good one. There are great evils to be curbed and this can best be done by the United States government.

WORDS.

It is said the advent of radio has added 5,000 words to the English language. We don't need any more words but we do need a greater sense of accuracy and order in using them. It is said there are 450,000 words in the English language. Few use more than 2,000. There are perhaps millions of men and women who do not use more than 800 or 1,000 different words.

The art of language is as fascinating as the art of music or any other art, once you are thoroughly interested in it.

The collection of words for a vocabulary is one of the most interesting and worth-while hobbies one can have.

Foster's Weather Prognostication

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Period June 1 to 4, inclusive, is expected to average below normal temperatures, probably the coolest period of month; frost damage in northern country will not be as likely to occur during this period, however, as during second cold period of month, from 13 to 19, severe northern frosts will not be expected this month, but conditions during 13 to 19 will be favorable to the formation of hail and the breeding of high winds in northern and western Great Central valleys and in southwest.

A storm wave of mild weather will cross continent in northern transcontinental storm path during week centering on 1, ushering in a cool period; a storm wave of moderate force will be expected to move a little farther south centering on 5, causing a period of above normal temperatures to follow storm centering on 10, when severe weather will move well to the southward and cover the entire continent east of Rockies centering on 12; 13 to 19 will be one of the danger periods for northern crops; probably the greatest hazard of first part of Summer.

I have advised that all seeding and planting be accomplished in order that growing force after May 15 be taken advantage of, but that thorough cultivation is essential this season. Canada is entering the season with an earlier start than usual, more than usual Summer and bastard fallow lands, and if my estimates are correct, will come thru with profitable yields of winter and early sown spring grains as an average. Should Canadian co-operation be as well managed this season as it has been during the past year, excellent profits will result. Hail and insects will take a heavy toll, but their area of devastation will be comparatively small. In spring wheat belt, increased rainfall shortage in western part of Rockies will be the greatest hazard of that area this season, hail second.

Will Use Range At East Brook

Service Men's Rifle Club Meets At Legion Home Friday Evening

Meeting of the Service Men's Rifle club held last night in the Legion Home was well attended and considerable enthusiasm was manifested in the various announcements of progress made.

Among other things, it was announced that application had been made for a charter for the organization, also that the privilege of using the National Guard outdoor range at East Brook, which is being remodeled and greatly improved and the indoor range at the armory on Neshannock avenue, had been granted to the members of the club.

It was announced that the charter is still open to members of the American Legion in good standing and also to such other citizens of the community who while not eligible for membership in the Legion, might desire to be affiliated with a rifle club. Such persons are all invited to join. A small membership fee of $3 is all that is charged.

Indications are that the club will get into formal action at the ranges within the next ten days or at least as soon as the supply of ammunition and rifles has been secured. Matches will be started as soon as the ammunition and rifles are received.

Those interested in becoming affiliated with the club should get in touch at once with Frank Wood, Bernard H. Hook, Clarence A. Patterson, W. R. Allen, H. M. Wharton, DeGraff Robinson or J. N. Speed.

The Diary of a New Yorker

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Big Town always has a Murderer's Row. A long time ago the most conspicuous place of sudden death was in Broadway, between Houston and Bleeker streets. In other periods there were the Barracks, in 37th street, west of Tenth avenue; Hell's Kitchen, in 39th street; Milligan Alley, in 43rd street, and, of course, the Bowery. All these in time became respectable or disappeared. Now the toughest place in New York is on the docks, in the lacy shadows of Brooklyn bridge, on the side opposite Manhattan.

There gangs practice murder among themselves and inflict it on each other. When the other day, Ed McGuire flopped face down on a pier with blood jerking from his chest, he was the tenth man to die in the struggle for the leadership of the old Bill Lovett gang, terrors of the docks. Others envied Lovett's power, and one morning he was found with his skull crushed, his brains seeing the light for the first time. Various aspirants arose and had brief glory. McGuire rolled dice with others for the gang leadership. He won—and lost.

In New York there isn't any underworld in the sense of a particular district, as there used to be. A lot of pimps are less painful and less conspicuous than one big boss, the police keep the iniquitous scattered, instead of segregated.

The lower classes of crooks, which simply means those with small, no bankrolls, naturally are to be found here and there among the rest of the poor. The big crooks invariably are big spenders—"Easy come, easy go"—and are to be seen at the Broadway hits, smartest night clubs and exclusive hotels and apartment houses. Leaving the theatre a few nights ago, my wide indicated two faultlessly attired, gentlemanly appearing men, accompanied by young and beautiful women, who were getting into a limousine, and wondered if they were scions of aristocratic families. I was able to assure him positively that one of them, virtually illiterate, was an internationally famous gambler, and another the chieftain of a bootlegging ring.

Not long ago police raided an office in the eminently respectable Paramount building, and found the headquarters of a robber gang.

One who has any doubts about the metamorphosis of the Bowery into a thoroughly respectable thoroughfare, with as many members of the Y. M. C. A. as any other section, should note an item in "Variety," organ of the show district. For the third time an attempt to revive stock burlesque at the Royale, on the Bowery, has failed.

And Variety learnedly reports, "Despite roughing up the shows to a extent that would ordinarily attract police attention, they couldn't drag 'em in."

As we understand it, the Nicaraguan election will be held on the Tuesday after the first gang funeral in November.

A Pekinese is a small woolly dog at one end of a string whose other end is attached to a No. 3 husband.

Here's Speedy Relief for Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

Moone's Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction Or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go on any other step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture, you'd give anything to get relief.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling radiates.

And as for Soft corns and Callouses a few applications each night and in a day time and they just seem to shrivel, right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with powders, footbaths or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins and the swelling radiates.

McKee's Kid Rate Store, New Castle, Del., McKee & Fry, Bockers of New Castle, Inc., and every good druggist guarantees Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

To the law and to the testimony; if they speak not according to this Word, it is because there is no light in them. Isa. 8:20. To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless; Isa. 10: 2; Matthew 5: 18, 20; Revelation 22: 14, 15.

Free Tourist Camp—Free Picnic and Parking Grounds. Free Employment Office. Food, clothing, lodging, free bath and laundry. We help deserving poor people. Industrial self supporting home missionary work. Free Bibles in all languages to persons unable to buy one. Special meeting Sunday afternoon, prayer, song, testimony. Open air service, corner of Jefferson and Washington streets, Saturday evening. (Weather permitting). All seats free. No collection. We depend on free will offerings and work. Acts 2:38-47. Phil. 4:18. We use waste material of every description.

Notice to the Public in General. Carpenters are repairing and re-in need of paint wishing to paint the entire building. We can use any kind and any color of paint and linseed oil. We will mix all the paint in one color, that will be the color of the building. Amen. U. E. invited to bring paint or send word and we will call and get whatever you have to give; please get from in behind the door, from ceiling to the floor. All who give shall in no wise lose his reward. Matthew 10:42. We need paint! It will be a wonderful color. L. Schmidt, Sec. & Treas.

RUBBISH CAUSE

OF FIRE ALARM
An alarm from box 31 at 4:40 p. m. Friday called the firemen to the rear of the Harry Fisher store, 372 East Washington street which is now vacant. Some rubbish piled in the rear of the store and up against some barns had been set on fire in some unknown manner and was burning briskly when the firemen arrived. Fortunately there was no fire loss owing to the prompt arrival of the firemen after the discovery of the blaze.

Pomona Grange Will Meet Next Wednesday

Memorial Service Will Be Held During The Afternoon Of Day

A regular meeting of Pomona Grange will be held Wednesday all day in Liberty Grange hall on the Harlansburg road. David F. Kyle, master of the Grange, will preside.

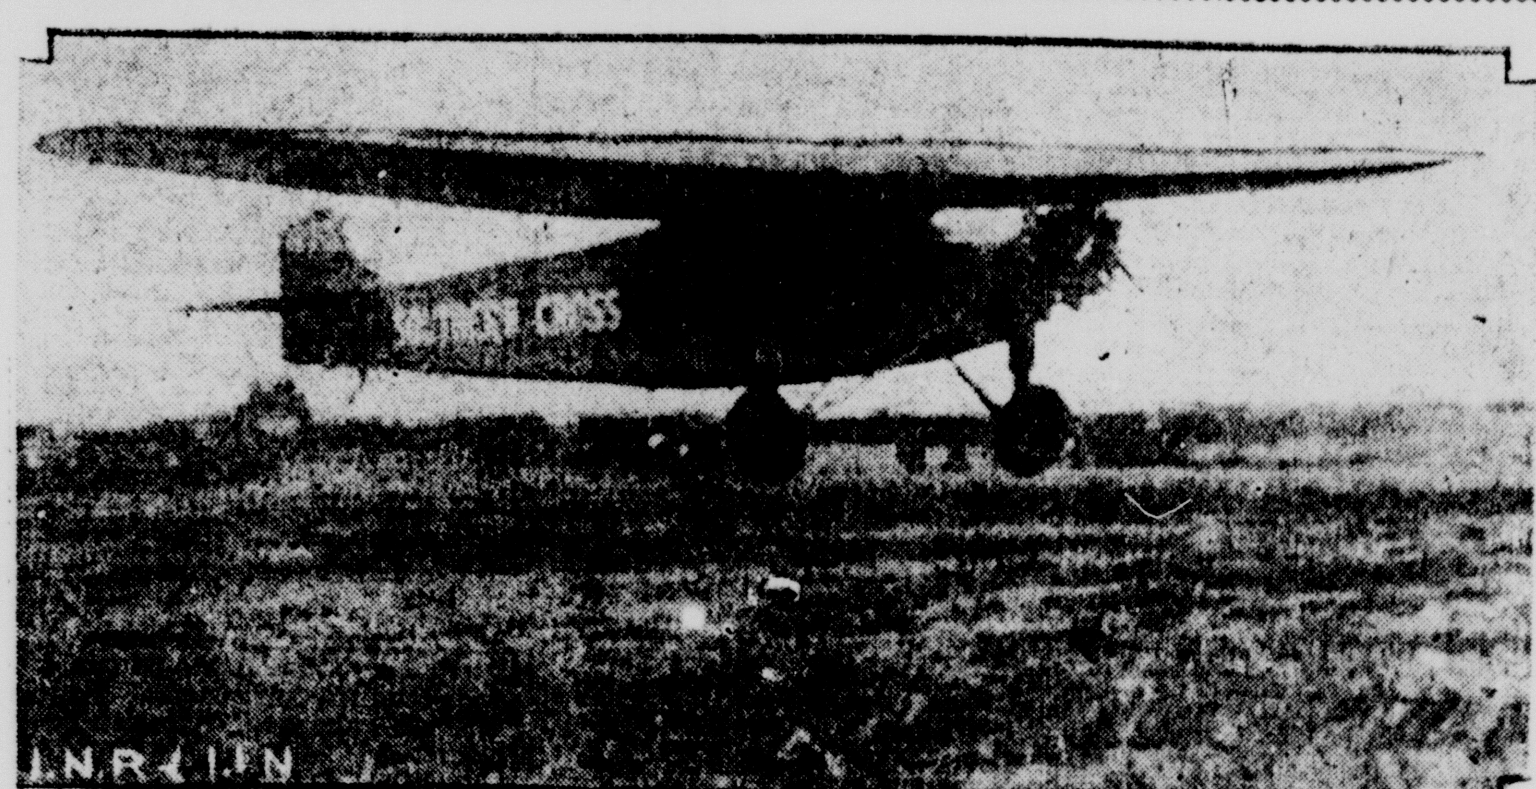

Three sessions will be held during the day, 10:30 a. m., 1:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., Eastern Standard time. The afternoon session will be open to the public.

Featuring the afternoon session will be the installation of the chaplain and gift keeper, who were unable to be present at the previous meeting. Then there will be the memorial service to deceased members of the organization.

Following this there will be the big feature of the meeting, the address of W. D. Zinn of Philippi, associate editor of the National Stockman and Farmer, and considered one of the outstanding authorities on the subject of farming, stock-raising and things generally that would interest a farmer.

Indications are that this will prove one of the most largely attended meetings of Pomona Grange held here in some time.

The Christian fellowship banquet which will be given next Thursday at 6:30 p. m., at the Scottish Rite Cathedral dining room in connection with 90th convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, will be a happy occasion interspersed with short snappy talks, singing and special music. The reservations are going fast but there are still a number of Sabbath Schools that have not reported the number of reservations they wish. Mrs. William J. Marshall, county secretary, must know some time not later than Monday evening, June 4th, so Sabbath School superintendents are urged to take up this matter tomorrow (Sunday) if they have not already done so, and call Mrs. Marshall, 3660-M, Monday.

Plan Demonstration Of Potato Spraying

Two Meetings Are Scheduled Under Direction Of County Farm Bureau

Two meetings where the proper slacking of lime in preparation to mixing with copper sulphate for the spraying of potatoes will take place Monday, June 4 according to H. R. McCulloch county agent.

The first meeting will take place at 10 a. m. Eastern Standard time at the farm of Oscar Lipp one and one-half miles west of Mt. Air creamery in North Beaver township. The second meeting will be held at 1:30 Eastern Standard time at the farm of A. E. McCreary and son, two miles north of East Brook in Hickory township.

L. T. Dennison extension plant pathologist from the Pennsylvania State college will be present at the meeting to assist in the demonstration and to answer any questions on proper potato culture.

Mr. McCulloch the county agent wishes to warn the growers that it is essential that the lime be properly slacked and the materials properly mixed if a thorough and complete job of spraying is to be done.

The meetings are open to the public and people who are interested are invited to attend.

It is yet too early to tell whether Hoover gained or lost public favor by losing Indiana.

Controversy Rages, Texas Editor Hurls Attack At Lindbergh

Amarillo, Tex., Editor Says Colonel Lindbergh "Swell Head", And Means It

Town Incensed Over Editorial Attack On Famous "Lone Eagle Of Air"

(International News Service) AMARILLO, Tex., June 2.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was the center of a storm of civic strife today that had this thriving town by the ears. "Lindbergh has the swell head," said Editor Gene Howe in his newspaper. "Some of his elders should teach him some manners and courtesy."

"Treason!" replied a large section of the city's 25,000 population, including high school students who long have admired the trans-Atlantic flyer as an ideal.

The battle was on in full swing today, with Editor Howe standing by his guns, and the pro-Lindberghs threatening to boycott Howe's paper. Several mass meetings have been held.

"I have no apologies to make," said Howe. "I said Lindbergh had a swell head, and I meant just that. If he never returns to Amarillo that will be soon enough for me."

Refuses Invitation
The controversy arose over an invitation which the city fathers telegraphed to Lindbergh at Wichita asking him to stop here on his way west. Lindbergh did not reply to the invitation, but in Wichita gave out a statement to the effect that he would not stop at Amarillo, but would stop at Clovis, N. M.

Then without any notice the flying colonel did swoop over the city, performed a few stunts and landed at the field. Nearly all Amarillo rushed to the flying field.

"These people," said Editor Howe, "flocked to the field because he himself had advertised his arrival. Then he proceeded to act bored and annoyed and was almost insolent. If he didn't want people to know he was here he shouldn't have advertised his arrival, and at least could have been courteous to those who approached him."

Then, continued the irate Texas editor, the flying colonel passed over Clovis N. M., "a mile in the air," totally disregarding the thousands who had congregated there to see him as a result of his Wichita statement.

"Among those in the crowd were ranchers who had driven a hundred miles and wasted an entire day in order to see him," said Howe. "I said he had a swell head and I mean it. If that's treason make the most of it."

Helen Willis Has Easy Time Winning In French Tourney

(International News Service) PARIS, June 2.—Helen Willis, young American tennis star, had an easy time of it today remaining in the International hard court tennis championship tourney. She was pitted against Mile. Couquerque of France, and won easily in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0. Miss Willis is the only American left in the tournament.

The American girl outclassed her French opponent, winning a majority of points on Mile. Couquerque's errors and double faults. The French girl made nine double faults. The points in the first set were 28-12.

Lindbergh Lands At Columbus But Resumes Journey

(International News Service) SAN DIEGO, June 2.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the nomad of the air, was present and accounted for in San Diego today after taking off on another of his numerous "mystery" flights from San Francisco late yesterday.

After swooping down on deserted Mahoney field here last evening, Lindbergh and his party went to the home of X. F. Mahoney, aircraft builder, where they spent the night.

Dickinson College President Resigns

(International News Service) CARLEISLE, Pa. June 2.—Dr. James Henry Morgan, president of Dickinson college here, has tendered his resignation which was accepted by the board of trustees, effective June 10, 1929.

Mr. Morgan has been in intimate connection with the college for the past 54 years. He accepted the presidency in 1914. No reason for his resignation was made public.

Mayor Thompson Favors Coolidge

(International News Service) CHICAGO, June 2.—Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson may lead a drive at the Kansas City Republican convention to draft President Coolidge for a third term.

Mayor Thompson declared today: "I am for Calvin Coolidge all the time. I believe he should be the choice at Kansas City."

"Rainy weather makes animals more quarrelsome." And we thought it was just because the family was cooped up together.

Grand Rapids Mother Given Life Sentence

Mother Who Killed Baby Just Because She Couldn't Be Bothered Gets Life Term

(International News Service) GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 2.—Mrs. Johanna Reese, 34, the mother who "couldn't be bothered," was taken to the Detroit house of correction today to begin a life sentence for the murder of her two-year-old son, Charles Raymond.

Stolid faced and unemotional, Mrs. Reese appeared before Superior Court Judge Leonard D. Verrier late yesterday and pleaded guilty to administering carbolic acid to her baby. In her confession she had said she was "too much bothered."

In a voice as cold as steel, she told of uncorking the bottle and placing it to the child's lips just after he had awakened from a nap.

Has Newspaper 200 Years Old

(International News Service) SHAMOKIN, Pa., June 2.—Among the priceless treasures of past years collected by Reuben Lenker, 84, of this city, are a copy of a newspaper printed in Boston on Monday, April 8, 1728, and a pair of spectacles made by a relative 216 years ago.

The newspaper is 12 inches in length and has four pages of printing and two columns in width. One of the advertisements lists: "A very likely negro girl, about 13 or 14 years of age, speaks good English, has been in the country some years. To be sold. Inquire of the printer thereof."

The spectacles have rims of iron and are double hinged. The glass in them is of exceptional quality.

Infanticide Charge

According to the prosecuting attorney, Mrs. Madge Wayman Harbur, 24, held at Kirksville, Mo., on a first degree murder charge, confesses she threw her 10-day-old baby, Betty Lou, into a creek. She denies, however, that she mutilated the baby before throwing the body into the creek. "I loved my baby, but I didn't know what to do with her, so I threw her away," she is alleged to have explained.

NEW HATS EXPRESS FEMININITY

The newer hats, like gowns, take on a femininity with the new season. Two of the popular wider brimmed hats are pictured, the model on the left being of wood, hair and lace, the colors matching the trimming of belting ribbon. The chapeau on the right is a beige milan and ceru lace with a flange of hair. It is trimmed with ribbon. A Patou frock of pen print chiffon (center) featuring tiers of flouncings.

Farmers Plan For Convention March In Relief Fight

Thousands Of Farmers May Join "March To Kansas City" For Protest

(International News Service) CHICAGO, June 2.—The spectacle of thousands of farmers, garbed in overalls and straw hats, marching through the streets of Kansas City demanding agricultural relief, may feature the national Republican convention.

Mark Woods of Lincoln, Neb., in Chicago today to attend a meeting at which plans for the "march on Kansas City" will be made, declared the protesting toilers on the farms will swoop down on the convention city wearing old-fashioned straw hats.

"The kind that used to cost a nickel and now brings 50 cents."

Switzerland Leads European Nations Using Electricity

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 2.—Switzerland, one of the tiny nations of Europe, is the leading continental country in the utilization of electric power.

Reports from representatives of the Commerce and State Departments show rapid progress, especially in the development of hydro-electric facilities in recent years.

Few countries of the world are so well endowed with natural resources which spells emancipation from foreign fuel supplies as is Switzerland. Tremendous water power resources are abundant in this nation nestled high in the Alps.

Switzerland has the highest per capita consumption of electrical energy of any country in the world, amounting to about 900 kilowatt-hours annually. Almost every locality is supplied with electricity, and the electric network covers a large portion of the total area, approximately 95 per cent of all Swiss villages being supplied with electrical current.

Unveil Statue Of President Buchanan

(International News Service) LANCASTER, Pa., June 2.—A statue of James Buchanan, Pennsylvania's only president, was unveiled in Buchanan park, near his old home "Wheatland" yesterday.

The memorial was made possible through a fund of $25,000 set aside for that purpose under the terms of the will of the late Dulon F. Buchmiller of this city. It will be unveiled by Mrs. Mary Buchmiller Ledwith, of Philadelphia, daughter of the donor.

The statue, which is eight feet in height, has been erected on a six-foot granite pedestal at the entrance to the park which adjoins the campus of Franklin and Marshall college. Charles Grafty, of Philadelphia, was the sculptor.

The wife of the nearest living relative of Buchanan, Mrs. John N. Lane, of Bellefonte, Pa., will attend the dedicatory ceremonies. Her husband is a grand-nephew of the former president. He is an invalid and will not be able to make the journey from his home.

The statue shows the fifteenth president as he appeared while in office, wearing the clothes of the pre-Civil war period. It is the only statue erected in his memory in this city where he spent many years of his life.

The services will open in Hensel hall at Franklin and Marshall college this afternoon with an invocation by the Rev. W. W. Edge, of the First Presbyterian church of this city. Buchanan joined this congregation after leaving the White House. At the close of the services the ceremony will move across the campus to the park where Mrs. Ledwith will present the statue to the city.

READY FOR G. O. P. CONVENTION

Mrs. E. B. McLean, above, wife of the wealthy Washington, D. C., publisher, has planned to make her week attending the Republican national convention in Kansas City, Mo., in June, a social event as well as political. She has rented a suite of rooms in a Kansas City hotel at a rate of $175 a day.

PLEDGE FRIENDSHIP TO THE LIMIT

Body Of Drowned Negress Recovered

(International News Service) WAYNESBURG, Pa., June 2.—The body of Mrs. Pearl Stone, negress, one of six victims of a skiff tragedy on April 30, awaits burial today. It was found near the Masontown bridge yesterday. One body remains unrecovered, that of William Stone, 13, son of Mrs. Stone.

Somerset Editor Suffers Stroke

Plan Stiff Fight For Lower Rates In Steel Hauling

Railroad Officials And Steel Industry Traffic Men To Stage Conference

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, June 2.—Planning to fight to the last ditch to protect Pittsburgh district's steel and iron supremacy, traffic representatives of many steel companies and other business organizations today prepared for a conference on Tuesday in the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce auditorium, at which conference, it is hoped, some solution will be found by which the Illinois Central railroad new rate ruling can successfully be combated.

An injunction may be sought in federal court to restrain the Illinois Central from reducing its rates on iron, steel and canned goods from the Chicago territory to California, via the Panama canal. Traffic men pointed out yesterday, however, that the Illinois Central new rate took effect on Thursday and that the situation is complicated by technical problems, the solution of which will probably be sought through other channels.

Yesterday, heads of the Pennsylvania, New York Central and the Baltimore & Ohio railroads were studying the situation. It is believed that a decision will emanate within ten days.

Indian Tribes Take To "War Path" For Old Treaty Rights

(International News Service) ARDMORE, Okla., June 2.—Two tribes of Indians in Oklahoma, are on the "war path" to protect their tribal treaty rights. Several hundred members of the Chickasaw and Choctaw tribes organized as a body here recently to look after their interests and to delve into pending litigation concerning their coal and asphalt properties. The Indians voted almost unanimously to attempt a test of the effectiveness of the Dawes Commission Treaty, by carrying the matter before the United States Supreme court.

The Redskins believe their interests are being tossed upon a political sea and that the long drawn out fight over technicalities of ownership and the like are cutting deeply into the value of their estates. They are eager to sell to the United States Government their tracts of coal and asphalt lands for twelve million dollars. This, they think, would have been accomplished more than two years ago, had their treaty been in full force.

Civil Strife In China Nears End

Northern Chinese Armies Prepare To Enter Manchuria And Give Up Peking

FOREIGNERS WILL GET PROTECTION

(International News Service) LONDON, June 2.—The end of the two-year civil war in China loomed today as the northerners prepared to retreat into Manchuria and allow the nationalists to take the city of Peking without a bombardment.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, who for two years has been the dictator at Peking, has dispatched officers to the battlefield at Luliho, 30 miles away, to prepare for an orderly retirement into Manchuria, dispatches from Tokyo and Peking state.

Chang has assured the representatives of the foreign powers in Peking that foreigners will have full protection and need have no fear of bombardment by the southerners or looting by his troops.

Boys Of State In Marble Tournament At Bethlehem, Penna.

Fifty Boys From All Sections Of Pennsylvania Compete In Annual Championships

(International News Service) BETHLEHEM, Pa., June 2.—Approximately 50 boys from various sections of the state are participating in the state championship marble tournament here today sponsored by the Bethlehem Lions club and the Playground and Recreation Association of America for boys under 15 years of age.

Unfavorable weather for a time early today threatened to postpone the scheduled play but the skies cleared and play got under way at 10:30 a. m.

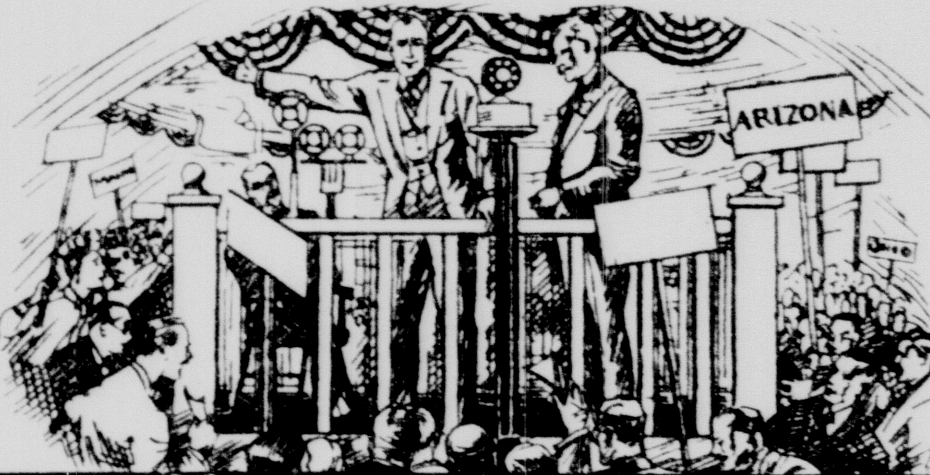

The tourney is an elimination affair each contestant dropping out after one defeat.

A contest between Mayor Clarence L. Edinger, of Stroudsburg, and Mayor James M. Yeakle, of Bethlehem, for the mayoralty championship of the two cities is listed as the feature event of the day.

The contest will be continued throughout the day until the new state champion is crowned.

Building Fund Day To Be Observed With Fitting Exercises On Sunday

A program of unusual interest will be presented on Sunday morning at the opening of the Bible School in the First Baptist church.

For some time the first Sunday of each month has been known as Building Fund Day when the offering received is laid aside for the purpose of creating a fund to be used in enlarging the Sunday school room.

Much interest has been aroused and a keen competition has been created in the various classes. A banner is presented to the class giving the most money according to its membership.

Robert M. Strickler, Jr., will extend greetings and selections by a trio will be given. A solo number will be given by Mr. Williams and the scripture lesson will be read by Sylvia Martin. Report of the building fund will be given by Alfred Owens, treasurer, and the banner will be presented to the winning class by James Remley.

The program will close with prayer by the pastor, Rev. George M. Landis. The superintendent, Paul D. Weller, will preside and John W. Owens will be in charge of the song service.

Ho, hum! Nothing in the headlines to shake or conviction that nobody should be hanged.

City May Proceed With Improvements

Attorney-General May Not Hand Down Opinion On Certificates

Indications are that proposed improvements by the city of New Castle will soon get under way as Solicitor Robert M. White stated today he had heard that the state's attorney-general may not render any decision relative to certificate of indebtedness.

At the last session of the legislature a law was passed making it mandatory that all bond issues would first have to receive state approval before issuance.

The question of certificates of indebtedness arose and the state's attorney-general was requested to furnish an opinion as to whether it was necessary for cities to receive approval.

Word has been received by White from other third class solicitors that the state's attorney-general will not decide this new phase.

If this is true cities which have projects pending to be paid for by certificates of indebtedness will proceed with improvements.

There are several projects to be paid for in this manner planned by the local municipal government among them paving of Sampson street from the end of the present pavement to the city line.

Junior High Students Visit Fire Department

Are Shown How Firemen Answer Alarms Of Fire At Night

A large group of North Street Junior High students were the guests of Chief Charles H. Lynn and the members of the Central fire department Friday the closing day of the school week. They were in charge of Prof. Compton.

Chief Lynn made special efforts to make the visit of the future men and women of the city pleasant and of real interest, and according to reports he succeeded.

He not only showed them how alarms come in, showed how they are received and placed on the transmitter but also how a round of an alarm is operated. He also demonstrated how the big Knox machine pumps heavy streams of water through several lines of hose.

Chinese Labor Immigration Problem

IN THE LATE 'SIXTIES, THOUSANDS OF CHINESE LABORERS FLOCKED TO AMERICA TO WORK ON THE WESTERN END OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY. AFTER THE RAILROAD WAS COMPLETED, IMMIGRANTS FROM CHINA CONTINUED TO POUR INTO OUR PACIFIC COAST STATES.

THE CHINESE COOLIES WERE WILLING TO WORK FOR BUT A FEW CENTS A DAY, AND WERE SATISFIED WITH DIRTY LODGINGS AND TO EAT NOTHING BUT RICE, WHEREAS THE AMERICAN LABORERS DEMANDED FOUR DOLLARS A DAY, CLEAN QUARTERS AND ROAST BEEF. SOMETHING HAD TO BE DONE TO PROTECT OUR WORKERS FROM THIS UNFAIR COMPETITION.

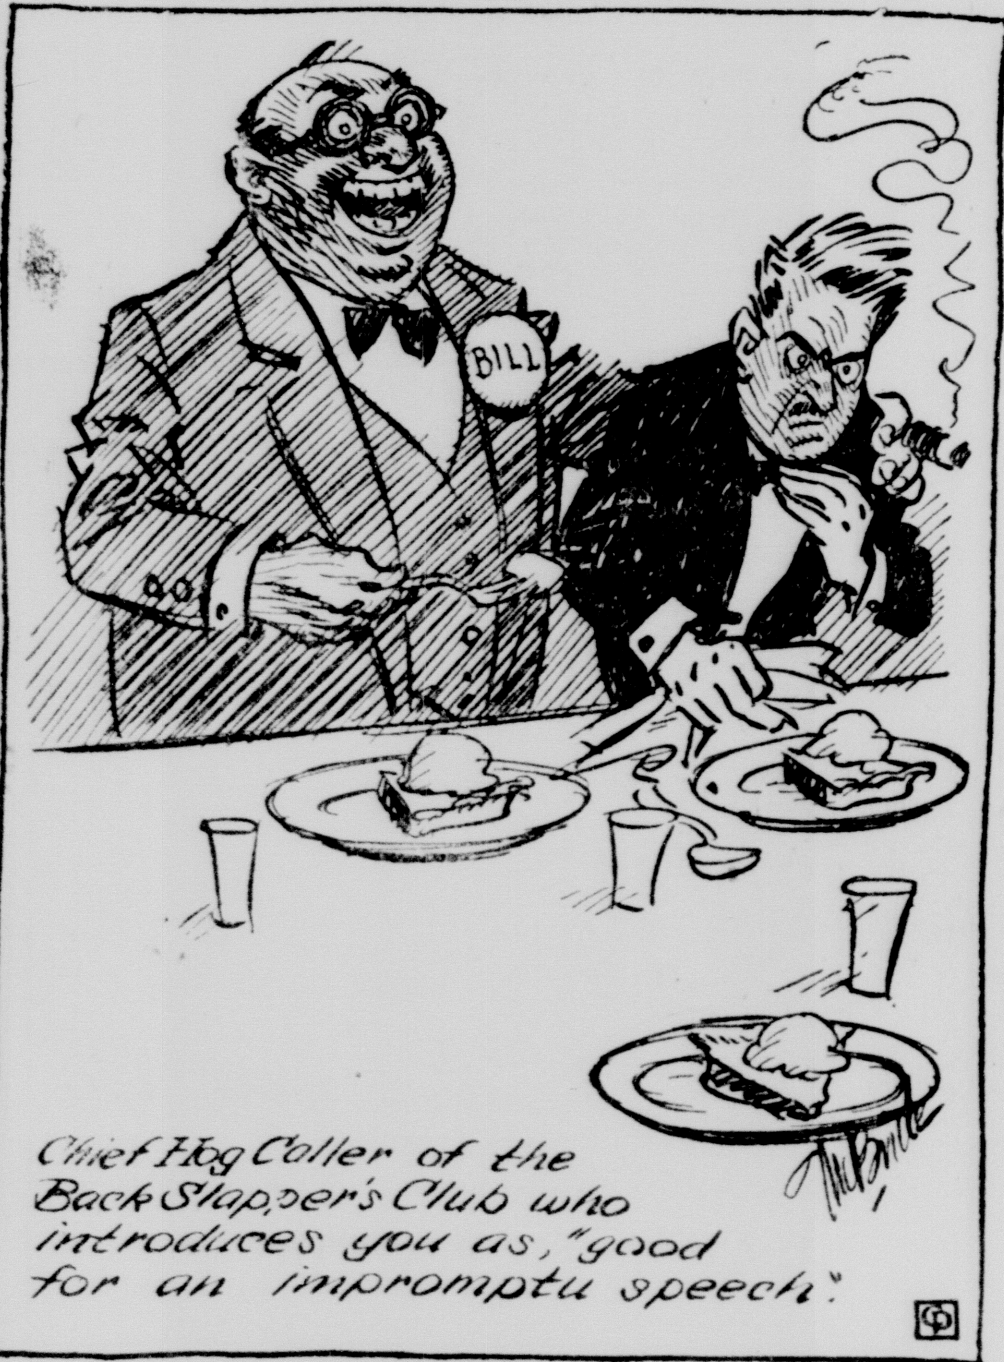

THE ENRAGED AMERICANS TOOK MATTERS IN THEIR OWN HANDS AND IN SOME INSTANCES DROVE THE CHINAMEN OUT OF TOWN. THESE ACTS OF VIOLENCE WERE IN VIOLATION OF THE BURLINGAME TREATY OF 1868, BY WHICH OUR GOVERNMENT PLEDGED ITSELF TO PROTECT CHINESE SUBJECTS WITHIN OUR BORDERS.

CONGRESS REPEALED THE BURLINGAME TREATY IN 1879, BUT THE BILL WAS VETOED BY PRESIDENT HAYES. HAYES SENT A COMMISSION TO CHINA, WHICH PAVED THE WAY FOR A NEW TREATY BY WHICH THAT COUNTRY AGREED TO OUR REGULATION OF THE IMMIGRATION OF CHINESE LABORERS.

LOUGHRAN RETAINS TITLE IN FAST FIGHT

Weight Tells On Hard Coal Miner

Latzo Carries Fight To Champion Through Barrage Of Blows

BODY ATTACK WINS FOR TITLEHOLDER

By SID MERCER
International News Service Staff

NEW YORK, June 2.—Tommy Loughran's crown rests jauntily on his head today after being exposed to the ponderous shots of Pete Latzo for 15 rounds last night at Ebbets Field.

The light-heavyweight champion, a 3 to 1 favorite over the Scranton miner, did not win as easily as was anticipated, for Latzo's ceaseless aggressiveness carried several rounds. The former welterweight titleholder was strong and full of fight all the way and compelled Loughran to step lively and spear his way to the decision.

Loughran occasionally lapsed into Latzo's roughhouse style of milling, and it was then that the challenger had his best and most inspirational moments. Pete's strength and weight punches gave him an advantage in these exchanges, but Loughran was smart enough to get out of Pete's groove and in the last four rounds cut Latzo down with vicious volleys of right-hand smashes to the ribs.

Through blinding barrages of left jabs and hooks the challenger ploughed steadily for 11 rounds. His face was raw from contact with Loughran's leathering, but he persisted in his attack and managed to place four of these rounds to his credit.

Loughran seemed to tire from his efforts in fending Latzo's rushes. Chin-titting uppercuts and jarring rights to the head did not discourage the challenger, and finally Loughran switched his fire to the body and carried the last four rounds to outdistance his rival by a wide round margin.

Latzo carried the 11th by rushes that seemed to tire Loughran, but then faded fast. The champion found his second wind after fighting himself into shape. By dropping his attack to the body he came through with a real champion's finish.

Long rights thudded to Latzo's ribs and seemed to take more out of him in a round than all of the previous head massages. Tommy stuck to this style until the end and had Pete floundering in the last four rounds. However, the challenger never stopped trying. He certainly performed better than a 1 to 3 shot, but he was up against speed, science and a number of other handicaps. Loughran was half a head taller, had a much longer reach and was far more nimble than his pudgy opponent. He also outweighted Latzo, 173 1/2 to 168.

Under the circumstances Latzo did well to carry four rounds and hold Loughran even in two others.

Ritticisms
BY BILL RITT

Sauerkraut Center has just raised its first pennant. The bunting is emblematic of the championship of the Spinach league and other foolishness.

It was a gala affair. The grandstand was jammed everyone of the 500 seats having been sold by noon.

The mayor made a grand speech. He staggered through the early paragraphs but hiccupped to a successful finish.

Last night the mayor made a tour of the city to see if liquor was being sold. It was.

First the mayor threw out the ball and then they threw him out. The mayor got mad as the fall broke up valuable property in his left hip pocket.

He wanted to have somebody arrested but had to wait until the game was over because the police force was pitching for the home side.

The mayor is so sore that he says the next time the town wins a pennant the citizens will have to get another mayor to run things. They probably will.

The Olympic Midgets defeated the Savannah Midgets, 6 to 4, in a fast game played at the Cascade Park grounds on Friday night. The pitching of Soevsky was a feature.

The Olds defeated Jacksonville, 2 to 0, in a game played at the Jacksonville grounds on Thursday evening. Norris, on the rubber for the Olds, held the Jacksonville team to three hits and fanned 19 men. McKay, Kennedy and Collins hit timely for the winners.

WEST POINT—AND HARRY WILSON BY FEG MURRAY

AFTER 4 YEARS AT PENN STATE AND 4 AT WEST POINT, WILSON IS KEENER FOR ATHLETICS THAN EVER. HE GOES FROM FOOTBALL TO BASEBALL TO LACROSSE.

WILSON WAS A GREAT OPEN FIELD RUNNER. A WONDERFUL LEADER AND A POPULAR CAPTAIN.

TINY HEWITT, FOOTBALL CAPTAIN IN 1926, IS IN TRAINING FOR THE OLYMPIC TEAM.

This is about West Point, Football Coach "Biff" Jones and Harry Wilson, one of the finest sportsmen and greatest all-around athletes that ever enrolled as a cadet at the United States Military Academy. Established on the recommendation of George Washington in 1794, West Point has grown to be a place of surpassing interest and beauty, and it was with great pleasure that your humble cartoonist recently spent a week-end amid its bold scenery on one of the grandest river passes in the world.

And speaking of passes, this brings us back to "Biff" Jones and Harry Wilson, for "Biff" is one of the smartest schemers of defenses for forward passes, and Harry one of the grandest interceptors thereof, that ever combined to wreck an opposing team's attack. After a snappy session at handball, in which "Biff" and "Mouse" McCormick, former Giant outfielder and pinch-hitter, now baseball coach at the Point, defeated the writer and his host, Capt. Jerry Counts, we sought refreshment and rest in the comfortable abode of hospitable Frank Wandell, official trainer of West Point's athletes.

"How will your team line up next fall, Biff?" I asked.

"Approximately this way: Murrell, full; Cagle and Hutchinson, halves; Nave, quarter; Messenger and Malloy or Kenney, ends; Sprague and Parry, tackles; Haddock and Humber, guards; and Hall, center," the coach replied. (Incidentally Sprague, the captain-elect, had just broken the Army shot-put record for the third successive time that afternoon.) Biff then admitted that he might have made a mistake in taking on the strong Southern Methodist University team for his second game of the 1928 season. "They're tough," went on the coach, "and scientific, too. They have seen movies of all the Army's last year's games. They take the sugar content of each member of their team on Thursday before a game, and see that he eats the proper amount before Saturday.

"Lacrosse?" Say, there's a great game for spring training for football players. Better than track, for it offers team play, body contact, dodging, change of pace, and puts the players in great condition. Seven of my last year's team are out there playing lacrosse now. Let's go look 'em over." Which brings us down to Harry Wilson.

"Harry Wilson," said "Biff," "is the best open-field runner I've had since 1923 when, as a student at Penn State, he scored three times against the middies, with runs of 55, 95, and 80 yards, and now, on June 2nd, he meets them again at lacrosse. Incidentally, this is the last time that the two service schools meet in athletics, until the unfortunate breach between them is patched up."

I am sorry that space will not permit more than a mention of Major Fleming, Capt. Charley Gerhardt, Lieut. Hewitt, and Cadet Born.

He won one game and lost three that year, while breaking into eight games. In the next campaign he was tossed into nine games and was credited with one defeat and no victories.

Take his 1927 record. Brought back from the St. Paul club, he was sent into 29 games. He wound up the season with 10 victories and three defeats. He was used mainly as a pinch hitter.

It was not until he stepped out of the box after the world's series game last fall against the Pirates that he was recognized as a star.

Though he had the makings of a good pitcher as early as 1923, the Yankees didn't need him. He didn't get his chance. Besides that, up to that fall afternoon of 1927 he had never been given the acid test—through which every player must go to prove his mettle.

Even in the minors he had never hung up a brilliant mark while working regularly. His best year—in point of percentage—was back in 1922, with the Charleston club, when he won 19 and lost nine games. His next best record was that hung up in 1926 with the Saints, when he won 22 games and lost 19.

As far as Piperas' record is concerned he wouldn't bring a great price. But try to get him from the Yankees, that's all!

New Castle Centennials and Canton clash at Centennial field this afternoon at 3:15.

Manager George Textor has picked Hackey Haley, the college star, to hurl.

Manager Hinchman of the Cantonians has not yet selected his pitcher. New Castle leads the O. & P. league and Canton is in last place.

It is the second clash between the two teams this year, New Castle having won the first game.

George Piperas, Yankee pitcher, is headed straight for more fame in baseball, though he is already rated an outstanding pitcher.

Piperas last recorded appearance in the ring was somewhat more than two years later when he tackled Martin Duffy at Louisville, Ky. Duffy knocked him out in the 13th round.

Ferns was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., January 20, 1874, and still spends much of his time in the mining districts around Pittsburgh.

The Boston Braves and the Phillies, supposedly the weak sisters of the eastern division of the National League, gave the western invaders a stiff battle yesterday, but both lost.

The Cincinnati or natty CinCY Reds, who had made only five home runs all season, shaded the Braves with the aid of three homers. Critz's four-bagger in the 10th gave the Reds a 7 to 6 verdict.

The Phillies finally got some good pitching when Shuckles Pruett held the Cardinals to six hits. But as luck would have it, Art Reinhart of the Cards was in even better form and blanked the Quakers, 1 to 0.

Friberg threw the game away by heaving a ball clear into the stands with two on base.

Sheriff Blake of the Cubs lost his first game in five starts when the Pirates kayoed him and won, 10 to 4. Grimes was a complete puzzle to the Cubs except in the sixth inning.

Although the Giants tried their best to lose the game by committing five errors, Larry Benton took a 4 to 3 decision over Jumbo Jim Elliott of the Brooklyn Robins. Benton hit eight games and the Giants have copped five straight.

Largest Class Of Ellwood City High School Is Graduated At Ceremony Friday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., June 2.—Ninety-nine seniors, the largest class in the history of the Ellwood City school, were graduated last night at the commencement exercises in the Liberty theatre.

Behind a bank of ferns and palms, white chairs were placed against a background of purple, and these chairs were occupied by the graduates who marched in and took their places to music. "Our National Anthem" played by the high school orchestra.

Murmurs of pride from the audience composed of proud mothers, fathers and friends, which filled the theatre to overflowing, were heard as the young men and women came upon the stage.

Salutatorian Speaks.

The invocation given by the Rev. L. J. Baker, pastor of Bell Memorial church, was followed by the salutatory by Miss Doris Day.

Her subject was "The Evolution of the High School," and in her oration she traced the school system from its beginning up to the present day. She pointed out that the present high school prepares for any phase of life, whether the tendency of the pupil be for the professional or the mechanical side. Her remarks were greeted with applause.

Francis Keller, valedictorian, followed with his oration, "The High School, a Laboratory of Citizenship." He showed that high school government forms the basis of good citizenship. Closing his speech, he bade farewell to his classmates and wished them luck wherever their paths should take them. His oration received favorable applause also.

Dominic Mundo then sang to appreciative listeners, "Goodbye" by Tosti.

Dr. Xander Speaks.

Dr. E. Clyde Xander, president of Thiel college, the speaker of the evening, was introduced by Superintendent Ray Smith.

Before taking up his chosen subject, Dr. Xander congratulated the class on the successful termination of its school work, the faculty who had instructed them, the parents who made it possible for their children to finish, and the community for furnishing the pupils with a well-equipped high school building. Said Dr. Xander: "Every dollar laid out for education is not money spent, but money invested."

After the introductory remarks, he announced his subject, "Some Enemies of the Best." These enemies he listed as follows: "Preoccupation vs. Purpose," "Impulse vs. Reflection," "Hurry vs. Thoroughness," "Reputation vs. Character," "Personal Liberty vs. Obedience to Law," "The Seen vs. the Unseen," and "Self vs. Service."

He admonished them that being occupied with that which is merely good keeps us out of the best. "Impulse has led us into all kinds of trouble. We need to reflect and learn how to think," was his warning.

Showing that it takes time to grow anything worth while, he urged against being in too much of a hurry at the expense of doing a thing well.

Referring to reputation vs. character, he pointed out that we can change our physical appearance but our character we cannot cover up. "No sham, no hypocrisy," he said. "Let us be what we are, not what people think we are."

He brought out the fact that the trouble with this democracy is that we all want to live in a democracy but we do not want to take upon ourselves the responsibility that goes with it. He said we must sublimate ourselves for the good of all.

In closing he asked "What will you do with your life?" showing that self must be submerged in service if the richest reward be gained from life.

After Dr. Xander's address, George Zikell and Charles Rabberman delighted the audience with a cornet duet.

Superintendent Smith presented the diplomas to the class who marched about the stage and received their amid much applause. He congratulated them upon being the largest class ever to graduate from the local high school, and wished them success and happiness through life.

Rev. A. M. Stevenson delivered the benediction.

The faculty who guided their pupils through this last successful year is composed of the following: W. Ray Smith, superintendent; Frank S. Attinger, principal; O. E. Bartel, music; Hazel Burrows, Latin and English; Marjorie Davidson, mathematics; Catherine Elsenhart, bookkeeping; William Gray Evans, biology; and commercial law; Lucille Gibson English; Lois B. McNeish, shorthand; Edna Shaffer, history and economics; Margaret Smith, typewriting and economics; C. L. Patterson, science; Dorothy Hefelman, French and English; and Florence Zehner, English.

Honor Pupils.—The list of honor students is the following: Francis Keller, Doris Day, Muriel Bourne, Annabelle Sanders, Hilda Miller, Mary Worcester, Tony Pasta, Leonard Maxwell, Edith Gross and Anna Marie Barberio.

The class officers were Francis Keller, president; Tony Pasta, vice president; Muriel Bourne, secretary, and John King, treasurer.

The list of graduates follows: William James Albert, Angelina Assini, Anna Marie Barberio, Carmel Barile, Filomena Barile, Virginia Olga Bellora, Catherine Berendt, Gladys Viola Blank, Muriel Bourne, James A. ## She Defies Death

Katherine Schaub, one of five incurable victims of an astounding radium disease, has offered herself for experimental purposes, in order that surgeons may discover some means of bringing relief to her four companions who are doomed to a slow death. The workers are attempting to bring to trial their suit against the United States Radium Corporation of New Jersey, claiming they contracted the unknown disease while working with radium for that company.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET TONIGHT AT VICTOR CAMP

Expect One Hundred At Big Banquet—New Castle People Will Attend

(Special To The News) ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—As a forerunner to the formal opening of the Dick Victor Camp for Boys, located near here, a fathers and sons banquet will be held tonight at six o'clock in the main dining hall of the camp.

Invitations have been extended to all of the fathers who have their boys enrolled for the 1928 summer season and to others interested in sending their boys to this splendid summer home. It is likely that one hundred will attend.

In addition to the banquet tonight the fathers and sons will be overnight guests of Dick Victor. Prior to the banquet canoeing, horseback riding, tennis, baseball and other activities will be enjoyed. The week-end at the Dick Victor Camp promises to be an interesting one for all.

It is likely that a group of fathers and sons from New Castle will attend the banquet tonight, invitations having been extended to several prominent New Castle people.

AT SLIPPERY ROCK.—ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Mrs. John Breneman, of Wayne avenue, will spend the week end at Slippery Rock, where she will attend the reunion of her class at the Slippery Rock Normal school, and will visit her brother.

Pleasant Hill Grange Hall Placed In Use With Formal Program

STATE MASTER IS ONE OF SPEAKERS

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Pleasant Hill Grange No. 1505 dedicated its fine new Grange hall on the Ellwood City-Portersville road Wednesday afternoon, May 30 with interesting and pleasing ceremonies. The hall is located in Perry township six miles from Ellwood City.

State Master E. B. Dorsett of Tioga county, acted in the capacity of dedicating officer. The officers of the grange taking part in the ceremony were Messrs. George R. Nagle, Steffler, Boots, Hazen, Marshall, Smith, Mrs. George R. Nagle, Mrs. Boots, Mrs. Steffler, Acie Wagoner and Miss Weiss.

During the ceremony Messrs. Hazen Sr. and Weis and Pastmasters Smith and Marshall placed the altar in position for the dedication. The ceremony was impressive throughout. Many visitors were present from various granges of the county.

Pastmaster Smith called the meeting to order and delivered an address of welcome to the visitors. This was responded to in an able manner by Pomona Master David F. Kyle. The gathering was then led in prayer by Rev. Doak of the Wurttemberg M. E. church. The dedication address and ceremony by State Master E. B. Dorsett then followed. This was followed by short addresses by A. H. Fullerton, John Dorsett, brother of the state master and R. A. Nagle. Selections by the orchestra were rendered at different points between the addresses. This was followed by a recess until the evening session.

The evening session was started at 8 p. m. and was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Baker. There were addresses by J. A. Boak and Norman Morrison and music by the orchestra. The addresses of the state master at both the afternoon and evening sessions were inspiring.

A number of visitors from Ellwood City and Wurttemberg joined the grangers at the dinner hour. The ladies of the Pleasant Hill Grange served a fine chicken dinner to some 200 or more guests. It was a day long to be remembered by the members of the Pleasant Hill Grange and their friends. State Master Dorsett suggested the organizing of a Juvenile Grange and some 20 names were secured during the recess hour.

Modern Bridge Club Have Pleasant Party

ELLWOOD CITY, June 2.—Announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Mitchell, of New Castle, one of their members to George Kay, of Ellwood City, was made at the meeting of the Modern Bridge Club which was entertained by Miss Edrye Moyer, at her home in Wayne avenue, last evening.

At dinner which was served to the twelve members at six thirty, the secret was disclosed by small cards tied by yellow ribbons to yellow roses, forming a lovely centerpiece. Bridge followed the dinner at which favors were awarded Miss Mary Mitchell and Miss Mary Sakralda.

An added pleasure of the evening was the presence of Miss Mary Sakralda, a member, who has been attending the University of Chicago since January first, and is now home on a visit.

South Hills Is Loser To Clifton

Coates Pitches Airtight Game As Clifton Flats Take 9 To 1 Victory

Clifton Flats took a 9 to 1 decision over South Hills in a American section Twilight League game played on Friday night at the Clifton Flats field.

By virtue of their victory the Flats team remained tied with Wampum for first place in the standing of the league. Coates on the rubber for the Clifton Flats team allowed but five hits and fanned ten men. Smolink was the pitcher for the South Hills boys and was found for seven bingles. The Flats hammered Smolink hard in the second and fifth frames to tally eight of their runs.

Byak Morgan and A. Menahie led the attack with two hits apiece.

ABE MARTIN

On the Stress o' Modern Life

UNDERMIN' A HUSBAND'S HEALTH IN TH' '80'S

"The recent statement of a London heart specialist that th' stress o' modern life is too great for th' heart o' th' average man an' woman is stuff o' th' nonsense," declared Dr. Mopps.

"I day. Then, after instructin' the steward o' th' Skunk Ridge Country Club t' tell any one who might call him by phone that he wuz out o' town, he went on t' say, 'Th' nerve strain on th' man or woman o' forty years or so ago wuz fer more severe than it is t' day, while primitive man had fifty-foot lizards, sword toothed tigers, and dinosaurs, a block long, an' ferocious winged bats as big as monoplanes, t' dodge. Also these primitive men clubbed one another t' death on sight. Think o' th' multitudinous things that upset an' worried us in th' '80's, th' nerve rackin' practices, an' th' menaces that confronted us. Think o' th' ole Fourth o' Julys when ever' brat in town carried a bottle o' powder in his hip pocket, an' th' street fights, an' hook an' ladder contests. Who don't recall th' ole bloody shirt speeches that put ever'body on edge? Think o' th' excitement a circus caused. Then we had runaway horses knockin' lamp posts down th' same as autos do t' day. Look at th' drain on th' heart caused by universal t' backer chewin'. Women were shy an' easily scared or excited. Whiskey o' th' ole days speeded up th' heart twice as fast as any o' th' modern substitutes. Bathin' wuz an ordeal t' be dreaded, an' th' tear o' smallpox filled ever' breast. Disappointment in love used t' mow people down by th' thousan's. We don't hear o' that any more. Men in public life took ever' thing t' heart, an' d's grace caused 'em t' wilt an' fade away. T' day public men have skins as thick as rhinos. Daughters stayed at home an' fretted, an' many died o' anguish waitin' fer th' right feller t' come along. Mothers worried o'er their children, an' fathers struggled t' dress an' support their daughters. There were no safety razors, an' th' Saturday night waits at th' barber shops wuz a constant strain on th' hearts o' many. Wash day played havoc with hearts, while big hot noonday dinners took a heavy toll. Excessive walkin' undermined countless hearts, while worryin' o'er raisin' mustaches left it's tell-tail marks on many a growin' youngster. An' folks worried a thousan' per cent more o'er their debts in th' past than they do t' day. Skimpin' an' worryin', an' hustlin' t' save enough t' own a horse an' buggy caused more weakened hearts thro' anxiety, an' fear o' th' poor house, than any nerve rackin' an' heart jimmin' institution we have t' day."

Has Important Role In Play

LOUIS HAZEN

Behold the moving spirit of the Ohio State U. Campus, its inimitable cheer-leader, the ubiquitous and irrepressible "Maggie" Welch. This character is portrayed in the Ne-Ca-Hi Senior play by Louis Hazen, the Senior Class president himself. And although a newcomer into theatrical ranks, Louis sure swings a wicked megaphone as a cheer-leader. He dresses the part also as a first-class ballyhoo artist should, and amongst the co-eds there's little doubt but that he out-Apollo's Apollo. No room in any fraternity is there that doesn't admit him without knocking and no athlete co-ed, or professor is there who doesn't have for him a usable first name.

Of course as a student we don't speak too loudly of Maggie—he does the chattering himself. But if variety is the spice of life and salt is the savor of roast beef, then Maggie Welch Hazen certainly is the kick in the oyster cocktail in the college circles where he moves.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Those lads who belong to the Parlor Workers Union should remember that tonight, Daylight Savings Time goes into effect. In other words, if you stay at the girl friend's tonight until two a. m., you have stayed until three a. m.

And what a wonderful alibi for the chap who doesn't want to go to church in the morning. "Forgot about the change in the time" will be used tomorrow until it is threadbare, although the probabilities are that the golf players will set their clocks ahead before they turn in tonight.

Did some roaming around with the druggists Friday evening up at Conneaut Lake. Of all the organizations that banquet, the druggists seem to give away the most stuff. Candy, ice cream, cigars, pencils, matches, balloons and a lot of other stuff. Coming away from the banquet everybody looked like the victim of a bargain sale.

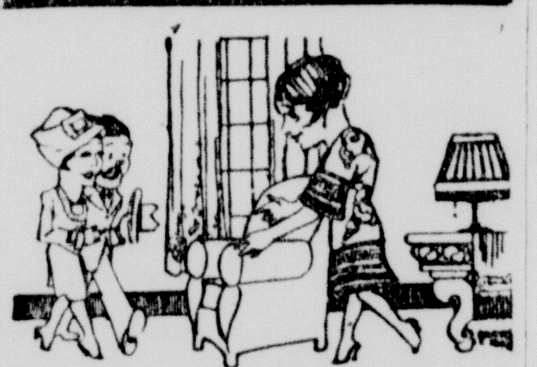

It was the convention of the Western Pennsylvania Druggists and when those lads convene they do a job of it. Don't get any funny ideas, they had their wits with them. S. Reed McGoun up there and Fred Hyde and Scott and Carl Paisley, Bill Haford, Ben Agnew, Doc Smith, and a host of others.

Of course it rained for some of the return trip. Coming out of the lake that is out of Exposition Park, it seemed as though somebody had picked the lake up and upset it over the roadway. And from there to Clarks-ville the cloudburst continued.

Next time you are up in a plane, take a look at the Shenango Tin mill sign. When they do things down at that plant they always do them in a big way, and if a sign 200 feet long and 15 feet high isn't a big sign there aren't any. Now all they have to do is send the bill to Will Rogers.

How does that New Castle Day at Forbes Field strike you. There has been some favorable reaction to the idea and with a little more sentiment for it, it will go over. The idea is this. To take down a group of baseball fans to Pittsburgh the next time St. Louis plays in Pittsburgh and honor Had Haid.

Now that the Prince of Wales has purchased an airplane and intends to fly, they'll probably strap him in very securely before they let him take off.

6 reasons why you will want the new Servel

1. Greater beauty and simplicity in design—inside and out.
2. Better construction and finish. Heavy pressed "Armco" steel with one-piece lining of porcelain.
3. Simpler, sturdier mechanical equipment—quiet, fool-proof and more economical to run.
4. The coldest refrigerant—hence the most efficient—in household use.
5. Greater freezing capacity—more ice trays—more cubes—easier to handle—quick to freeze.
6. Better temperature control—entirely automatic. No delicate devices to get out of order.

You can buy Servel on easy terms

Any of the Servel models, as well as the Servel installation in your own refrigerator, can be purchased for a moderate first payment and the balance spread over a convenient term of months. Ask for details.
